Raising the bar in fire safety

Real-time protection, full compliance, and unmatched scalability. That's what you get when you combine the power of NOTIFIER INSPIRE™, NOTIFIER Self-Test, and Honeywell Connected Life Safety Services (CLSS).

NOTIFIER's new product suite is a game-changing, all-in-one, end-to-end fire and life safety solution that provides you with the technology you need to seamlessly protect your people, your property, and your assets.

Minimize disruptions. Maximize control.

By leveraging the power of these top-class, integrated solutions, technicians don't need full access to occupied spaces to conduct a time-consuming smoke and heat test and inspection. Instead, they can execute a functional self-test and then perform a quick visual inspection from outside of the room – saving you and your occupants the hassle of unwanted disruptions.

These solutions also reduce the number of technicians needed on-site and the amount of time they spend there – turning a process that typically takes days and weeks into hours and minutes.

Compliance at hand

Because the process is automated, our system assures that no devices have been overlooked. Once all devices have been properly and thoroughly tested, digitized compliance reports are delivered at the touch of a button. No more spreadsheets, manual transcribing, and week-long delays. Honeywell's CLSS pulls the required identifier data electronically, providing access to detailed, complete reports anytime, anywhere.

The efficiency you need

Access real-time information to stay on top of maintenance schedules and be the first to react and take appropriate measures. Remote troubleshooting empowers engineers and technicians to diagnose problems before they arrive on-site – increasing first-time fix rates and cost savings.
